

Trump Assured 2020 Victory

The president needs these two prongs for his platform in order to achieve a landslide victory

Everybody knows the Donald Trump agenda from when he ran in 2016 and from his great work trying to get it past a stubborn set of Republican Never Trumpers in 2017 and 2018.

There are two other items that when made part of his platform will assure Donald J. Trump a landslide victory over Joe Biden in 2020. These items are so powerful, and so unique and so needed for America that they will take him way over the top for the presidency in the 2020 election.

By announcing these groundbreaking items within two weeks of the election, the president will suck all the air out of the election room for his victory and Joe Biden will have no place to go but home to Delaware.

Here I am with the only idea in the world that actually solves the big problem with the two biggest unspoken concerns in the United States of America today. These can be solved by President Trump for the good of the country and in so doing. He will assure his own victory in 2020.

The solutions address the biggest issues confronting the two largest voting blocks in America—Millennials and Senior Citizens. Capturing these major constituencies will assure Trump an election night victory no matter what happens with the post-office ballots.

This is the biggest secret in American election history. You won't want to put this book down until you learn the ins & outs of how there really is a no-lose solution for the president. When President Donald Trump loves an approach, he wins it at the ballot box. Trump loves to win. Make sure he sees this book.

Dedication

I dedicate this book to my wonderful wife Patricia; our three wonderful children Brian, Mike and Katie; and our friendly friends—Ben our always very happy dog, who recently became an Angel, and Buddy, our always cheerful Catholic cat who now lives in Cat Heaven.

Thank You All!

Acknowledgments

I appreciate all the help that I have received in putting this book together as well as all of my other 246 other published books.

My printed acknowledgments had become so large that book readers "complained" about going through too many pages to get to page one of the text.

And, so to permit me more flexibility, I put my acknowledgment list online, and it continues to grow. Believe it or not, it once cost about a dollar more to print each book.

Thank you and God bless you all for your help.

Please check out www.letsgetpublished.com to read the latest version of my heartfelt acknowledgments updated for this book. FYI, Wily Ky Eyely, my wonderful basketball playing "niece," loves this book and recommends it to all. She wants "Uncle Brian" to be our next US Senator but he's not running.

Thank you all!

Preface

Why did Brian W. Kelly write this book?

Brian W. Kelly loves America and he is a problem solver by trade. Brian developed a number of unique approaches to solving some major issues in America. Pennsylvanians suffer from these issues as much as those from other states.

Four times Brian was motivated to run for public office. Twice he went through the ballot access process as he ran for Congress in Northeastern PA and he ran for Mayor in his home town of Wilkes-Barre, PA.

Two other times, including 2018, Kelly ran for the US Senate as a write-in candidate. The cost in time and money for a regular person to achieve 2000 nomination petition signatures and travel around the state of Pennsylvania is far too prohibitive for the common man to get on the ballot for the office of US Senator. Sometimes getting one's platform exposed to the public is reward enough when the full goal may be unachievable.

Brian Kelly gets much of his message out in the books that he writes. This book is his 246th of 246 mostly non-fiction books. It is about two important solutions that are more important than the average American would at first suppose.

Two solutions not covered in this book include a plan to solve immigration and a solution for healthcare. Kelly has those solved also but the solutions are in other books. This time, we address the issues of student loans and Social Security COLA in ways you may not believe. The problems can be solved easily, Millennials and Seniors will be happy and the president will get his second term hands-down. That of course will make all my friends very happy.

I hope you enjoy this book and I hope that it inspires you to consider the platform points presented as enabling Americans to take the individual actions necessary. This will assure that the government begins to refrain from fraudulent abuse of seniors and millennials.

Brian W. Kelly has developed the solutions for America and the Kelly team is in accord with America. Of that I am certain. I think we are all ready to move on to a set of best moves that will push America closer to its greatness destination.

I wish you the best.

Chapter 1 Mr. Smith Goes to Washington

Jimmy Stewart from the movie, Mr. Smith Goes to Washington was a guiding light for my campaign. The people like Jimmy Stewart and the honest guys like Jefferson Smith are indispensable for a great democracy / republic. Donald Trump and Jefferson Smith are two from the same mold—for America first!

In this book, we are asking the President to boost social security now and to cancel all student debt. We make a great case in the chapters of this book beginning right here in Chapter 1. Enjoy!

Mr. Smith Goes to Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen, I would like to present myself. My name is Jefferson Smith and I am going to Washington—if you select me of course.

Jimmy Stewart is one of my favorite actors of all time. Donald Trump is my favorite president. JS is as Americana as it gets with the perfect touch of honesty that makes even men admire the actor and the character the actor is playing. My favorite movie of all time is "It's A Wonderful Life." It gets me every time. Remember the big pot of cash the neighbors brought in to George Bailey, so he could keep the Building and Loan going. Well, that's how I think America should be. Every hard-working American deserves a break.

<<< Here is a book you can check out for more great Trump stories:

Donald Trump is known to have a big heart and is credited with numerous random acts of kindness. For example, Trump gave $10,000 to a bus driver who saved a suicidal woman, gave $25,000 to a U.S. marine sergeant arrested and detained in Mexico, and allowed an orthodox Jewish family to use his private jet in order to seek urgent medical treatment for their young son. Mr. Trump is known for a big heart. We have a man who has been very successful in life and yet he assuredly carries a deep compassion for everyday hard-working men and women.

There are collections of these stories about Trump's great acts of kindness and generosity, most of them to strangers. There are also stories of him turning impossible situations into success stories! Trump likes to win and the two solutions in this book will assure his victory.

In the movie "It's a Wonderful Life," what George Bailey did not need to be a good man was the government stealing from his neighbors so that he could go to college and to heck with Pottersville. Well, it would have been Pottersville if George had not stayed to help all the people in Bedford Falls with his dad's Building and Loan Company.

Government intervention creates too many Pottersvilles and good neighbors create the likes of Bedford Falls. Let's let good people be good people again rather than taking so much from them that Mr. Potter is the only one left with any money.

Mr. Smith Goes to Washington exudes the same emotion from the viewer. It was another of Frank Capra's big hits and Jimmy Stewart as Jefferson Smith is as down to earth as George Bailey. When I ran for office a few times, I never did propose that I could do as good a job for Northeastern PA as Jefferson Smith did for his constituency. However, I am as much a babe in the woods as far as politics go as Mr. Smith. I would have sure tried to do my best.

I was running for office to help fight the same type of corruption that Smith faced when he went to Washington and Trump fights every day in Washington. I was up to the task but I did not have the resources when I began my quest. Like Trump, I was ready to fight to make America, America again.

And so, will you indulge me please as I say what I said numerous times when I was a candidate. My name is Mr.

Smith, and I am going to Washington. I can't get there without your help. Let's make sure we get Trump in again. The two prongs to an assured Trump victory will be well explained soon.

Think of the corrupt conditions that existed in this famous movie as Mr. Smith, played by Jimmy Stewart. Smith was little more than a bumpkin, when he first went into the Washington swamp of iniquity. For Smith, it was the US Senate. He was the naive and idealistic Jefferson Smith, the leader of the Boy Rangers. In Washington, Smith soon discovered many of the shortcomings of the political process as his earnest goal of a national boys' camp led to a conflict with the state's corrupt political boss, Jim Taylor.

Taylor first tried to corrupt Smith and then later attempted to destroy him through a made-up scandal. Smith conducted a heart-wrenching filibuster and finally swayed everybody to not pass the Boy Rangers Bill. Donald Trump has seen more fake news and more lies lobbed his way to derail his presidency than Jefferson Smith ever saw. So far, Trump has endured the best the Swamp has to throw at him.

What I am saying is that our great president Donald J. Trump did not run for the Senate, but, he experienced the same Washington Corruption from the moment that he took office in 2017. In fact, with campaign spying, he actually experienced the deep state swamp long before he took office. Like Smith, he could not be corrupted, and won't be corrupted. He chose to fight rather than be destroyed. No other man in the history of the United States, except perhaps Jefferson Smith could have withstood what Donald Trump has had to deal with.

I knew he would be a great president and so I wrote about ten books about him before his election with my favorite being God Gave US Donald Trump subtitled: Sent from God as the answer to deep anti-establishment anger and discontent and as a beacon for goodness. This book was inspired by a letter to the editor that I wrote on September 10, 2016, hoping to help Mr. Trump get elected as our 45th president. I'd say it worked.

I believe that Jefferson Smith would be an advocate for millennials and an advocate for seniors. Your author, Brian Kelly is now a senior with millennial children. Long before he became a senior, Kelly had a major soft spot for seniors. There were times in fact when in his dating years, there were circumstances in which Kelly would break up with a long term sweetheart, such as when he was 19, but during these tough times, Brian never broke off his friendship with his sweetheart's mother and in fact he was at the cemetery the day he mom's ashes were interred. Ironically, his old girlfriend was absent.

Donald Trump has a lot of the same characteristics as Smith and Kelly other than he is abundantly rich while Smith and Kelly are middle class. At 74, Trump is a year and a half my senior. He has been around long enough to have had children go through the millennial stage and he has been a senior citizen long enough to understand the plight of seniors. Not having to sweat for a retirement income is a big difference but Trump is a good man and he is a quick learner.

My whole family likes Trump and it is independent of my positive thinking on the matter. I have donated more money to President Donald Trump than I have to any other candidate ever. I believe in him.

However, I do not think that Mr. Trump has studied the two issues I am about to introduce to him and to the readers with this book. However, I am convinced that if the president gave these two issues just a bit more thought, he would agree that he can and should solve them in the way we prescribe in this book. He would kill Joe Biden in votes by having 90% of all seniors and 90% of all millennials rooting for his victory.

Yes, I bet he would pick the solution that I have been writing about for the last six years or more. Nancy Pelosi, and Chuck Schumer are looking at one of these as a sure vote accumulator for Biden. I think they are right unless my president uses my plan and beats them to the punch.

The rest of this book discusses the issues. The rest of this chapter discusses why Trump would be a sure win on November 3, 2020, if he announces that he is going to introduce the Kelly plan for Social Security and the Kelly plan for Student Loans.

Before we do that, however, let's discuss what is expected of Trump as Democrats are promising seniors doom at just six weeks out to the November 3rd presidential election. Unless this is your first election, what has become an annual Washington exercise, Democrats and Republicans are again waging a war of words over the president's plans for social security, the major program that benefits seniors. Democrats play on the biggest fear of seniors—that their ability to survive will be compromised by electing a non-Democrat.

Even when the president tells the truth, which is most often other than for national security reasons, the press lies about the meaning of what he says. President Donald Trump for example, has tweeted and repeated multiple times that he “will not be touching your Social Security or Medicare.” Meanwhile just as in every other presidential election slimy Democrats have charged that Trump plans to do exactly that and seniors will die.

More and more seniors after years and years of Democrat predictions of the doom of social security, have learned that the Democrats are congenital liars and are not worthy of heeding. Their messages are simply lies dictated by the Democrat party.

The Kelly plan for Social Security includes a knockout punch from Trump. Instead of tweeting and repeating the promise to not touch SSR, Trump can own the issue once and for all with a preemptive strike on the Democrats. This would be a recommended message from the president to preempt any potential missile about his intentions to derail the SSR program. No Way! Trump is no fool.

My recommendation for what the president should say in an announcement that ends the speculation once and for all about whether he is for or against seniors can be condensed to the following:

Would you not like Trump to say the following to his constituents?

“Not only am I not going to hurt Social Security, I am going to make up for the Democrats who hate seniors and who began the taxation of SSR benefits. Moreover, I am going to make up for the Democrats and the unscrupulous College professors who have unfairly cut the SSR COLA each year. Why would they do this? For their self promotion in the government hierarchy.

They use the methods near and dear to Democrat Coffee Breath Professors who devised ways to cheat seniors out of their SSR benefit entitlements. In a Trump administration, I am sick of being accused of cutting Social Security or even desiring to cut it. Meanwhile the democrats have been pushing cuts in the annual COLA with their friends in academia and the "statistic experts." I will stop Democrats from further minimizing your COLA (cost of living annual adjustment). In fact, folks, I take this so seriously that I promise that there will be no more cuts to COLA and the statisticians who are on the Obama era Democrat team put together to stiff seniors will be found and fired. .

That means that the true cost of goods will be used in the future for the CPI to determine your COLA. The Democrats and the coffee breath academe statistic professors have done their damage but that ends today.

But, the fact is that the government owes seniors a lot of money because in the past they had denied them true COLA increases. I am embarrassed to say that your government created a scenario that you lost money every year. Folks, your current SSR monthly payment should be at least three times at least of what it is. I can't change that overnight but this January, you will see at least a 30% bump as a down payment for making the government square for seniors.

No, I am not suggesting that I am going to cut SSR payments by 30%. I am saying after your January COLA will first be calculated with a real cost of living. To that I am going to throw in an additional 30% as a down payment for a future that tries to make up for what was stolen from you. That ought to take you and every other senior out of the poverty line and then some. Now, just do me one favor, after you receive the largest COLA ever given, tell me how to stop the Democrats from scaring seniors every election time. What a shame!

Millennials too!

That's not the end of the goodness for American citizens in the two-pronged adjustment that should be announced immediately for American citizens. The senior first year down payment alone will go a long way in helping senior citizens for sure. Future adjustments will keep seniors off the poverty rolls forever.

But, what about our youngest workers, the millennials who are burdened with student debt so bad that they cannot even buy a home or start a family? Now with the coronavirus a real threat to everybody's prosperity, the time to act to inject targeted funds into the economy is now, not tomorrow.

Democrats are known as the party of the giveaways. Yet, Obama hurt students by taking over the Student Loan Company. To help pay for Obamacare, he added to the student debt picture for millennials by taking over the loan industry and increasing the interest rate on students and he made it even harder for anybody to repay their student loan or a loan, which they cosigned for a loved one in good spirit.

Recently, we know that Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-MA) and Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-NY) have made an overture to President Trump—right before the presidential election—that would empower him to cancel up to $50,000 of student loan debt for each borrower in the U.S.

It is a plan that is a bit like the plan your author cooked up over six years ago and has been working through former Congressman and Senatorial Candidate Barletta to reach the President. The Warren and Schumer proposal argues correctly that student loan forgiveness would stimulate the economy, reduce inequality and lower income disparity. Like many Democrat proposals, there is a lot more that they do not say.

Like the Dems say, however, it is a fact that a president—through the Secretary of Education—has the power to cancel student loan debt under the Higher Education Act. The courts might have to decide but what a great idea. I will explain all of this in the coming chapters.

According to the latest student loan debt statistics, there is approximately $1.6 trillion of outstanding student loan debt, more than 90% of which is federal student loan debt. If Trump forgave student loan debt, it would be federal student loan debt and he has the power to do all of that.

Of course, I would recommend going further than Warren and Schumer. Do it big the Trump way. Cancel all debt through whatever means possible as described in subsequent chapters. Forget about just doing the first $50,000. Cancel it all and give millennials a big chance at a new life. Take the Schumer and Warren proposal and better it like the Brian Kelly proposal has been suggesting for the past six years.

Let me go over this one more time. This could be Trump's announcement speech:

Fellow Americans, you may know that over 45 million adult Americans—roughly one-sixth of the U.S. population older than age 18—currently carry a federal student loan and owe more than $1.6 trillion in federal student loan debt, plus another estimated $119 billion in student loans from private sources that are not backed by the government.

Instead of thinking that your child paid back their loan and so should these millennials, think of the burden this causes on so many Americans who signed up when their faces were still suffering from teen blemishes—yes, pimples. They believed guidance counselors taking out these huge loans would improve their lives. Some were not as lucky as to have middle class parents or grandparents to help and now their lives are almost finished. For some it did give a great job and a life and the means to pay off the loan, but for others the promise never came through but the debt lasts with no job and no bankruptcy relief.

In Massachusetts alone, over 1 million people struggle every day under a burden of insurmountable student loan debt, and that was even before the pandemic started. Now it seems hopeless to millennials caught in this trap. They need the President and the Congress to cancel all federal student loan debt as part of any economic stimulus package to address the coronavirus crisis. But my advisors tell me it is a good idea even without the virus as it would jump start the American economy.

Experts have been telling us that adding the persistent burden of student debt is a recipe for an economic disaster for millions of everyday people. Labor shocks like those the pandemic have caused are likely to cause an unwanted increase in federal student loan defaults. This helps nobody. I plan to end this nightmare today. I am also asking all lawmakers to immediately stop these actions that hit distressed borrowers the most.

Canceling student debt in response to the Coronavirus crisis will help the 45 million people with student loans and stimulate the economy when it is needed most. It will help all Americans.

In the long term, a student debt cancellation stimulus would help prevent or reduce the impacts of an upcoming recession. It is a much better solution than giving trillions to big businesses for bailouts and it reaches home right to the Americans who need it the most. The Student debt cancellation can boost GDP by up to $108 billion a year and would add up to 1.5 million jobs per year. Those kinds of numbers help all Americans.

We need federal and state leaders to freeze all student debt payments and stop all collections, liens and wage garnishment for public and private loans. State legislatures can help out by immediately passing a Student Loan Borrower's Bill of Rights to provide protections and guidance for student borrowers in distress and for future borrowers so that Academic institutions always have the most skin in the game.

Let's get this done immediately for all of America.

Though both proposals have major consequences for major groups of people—seniors and millennials, and both would be a boon to the economy and keep many Americans off the poverty rolls, there is a political benefit to the president for assuring this happens before November 3, 2020.

I would bet that Trump would get at least 90% of the seniors' vote by solving the COLA problem and he would get 90% of the millennial vote by solving the student debt problem and the economy would get a Trump-like boost that would outclass the original Trump economy pre pandemic.

Don't trust Schumer and Warren, Mr. President. Just do it. Dust off the Kelly proposal in the next chapters of this book and go with it. Use the two speeches above to get this out the door quickly. This is the right thing to do for a lot of reasons and the major side benefit is that Donald J. Trump will be our president for the next four years before Schumer and Warren even know there has been an election.

In the next chapters, let's take a look at the senior problems and the millennial problems and the solutions in that order

Chapter 2 Problems & Solutions—Social Security & Student Loans

Social Security Solution

Congress has taken a shot at passing legislation to base the COLA on a cost of living more like the true cost. It still is not the true cost of living but it is better than nothing. The For The People Act of 2019 (H.R.1553)

The bill was passed by the House on March 8, 2019 by a vote of 234–193 along strict party lines. As of August 2020, it has not been passed by the Senate. Republicans had better get this passed quickly or they are risking ire of 68 million seniors.

To rescue Republicans from themselves, Trump may have to promise putting forth a bill that offers as much as a 30% COLA for 2021.

There are a lot of voters collecting social security. Most of them need it to sustain their health and well-being. Many are near the poverty level. About 68 million people collect Social Security benefits each month, and they account for about one in five people in the United States. In about one family in four, someone is receiving Social Security benefits. It is the most important source of senior income there is.

If a candidate for president were to propose a solution that would go back in time to when the last cost of living increment that was based on a true cost of living (COL) was awarded to seniors that would be a great start. The next step would be to calculate how much in terms of a percentage each COLA thereafter shortchanged seniors by using schemes and mechanisms that were not based on the true inflation rate. The final step would be to use this percentage, which represents the income loss seniors have sustained and retrofit the payments for seniors using a true cola and increase each beneficiary's monthly payment accordingly.

The president would soon find out that seniors have been severely ripped off intentionally by the US government. Folks it is no accident that a social security living wage over the years became a near-poverty wage. He would discover that an accurate monthly payment would more than likely be two to four times higher than what each senior receives today.

As a practicality, it might be unaffordable for the country to make up such a large payment adjustment (a possibility) all at once, in the next chapter we discuss ways that the payment can be substantially increased so that no recipient is at the poverty level or below.

Don't be surprised when the truth comes out that each senior is due 300% over what they make today. The president needs to ask seniors for their forgiveness and more. He must offer a first-makeup amount of say 30%.

Considering last years COLA was 2%, and during the Obama years when inflation was soaring, President Obama chose to give seniors a 0% COLA three times and other times it was negligible. It was also incorrect and fraudulent intentionally. A 30% makeup amount would make the 2021 COLA at least 15 times what it was this year. This of course would be added to a true COLA based on a true cost of living.

Would seniors be motivated to vote for a president who got them on the right track if not to some level of prosperity which they are long due. Any president that assures their 30% makeup amount would be held in high regard at election time for sure. Is the color of blood red? More on seniors in the next chapter. Now let's look at a solution for millennials.

Student Loan Solution

44.7 million Americans are paying back a student loan. All of them are not millennials though most certainly are. Another large portion of debtors are gandmoms and grandpops of students who guaranteed their college loans. In fact over three million Americans over age 60 are paying for student loans.

What is the total debt. Right now, the total of student debt is approaching $1.7 trillion. That means one in four Americans are paying off student debt.

In 2020, the problem is not close to being solved but whoever decides to solve it will be receiving thank-you votes for eternity from 25% of all Americans. The fact is more and more each year are burdened by student loan debt. For example, among the Class of 2019, 69% of college students took out student loans, and they graduated with an average debt of $29,900, including both private and federal debt.

Any presidential candidate such as Donald Trump, who offers a solution to 68 million seniors and 45 million others who are up to their ears in student debt, will have an assured margin of victory on November 3 that is untouchable. And, better than that, it will be good for the country.

For six years your author has been working on perfecting the description and the solution for both issues—COLA for SSR and a resolution of the Student Debt Crisis. In a nutshell, my plan over the years showed how to wipe out all student debt now and boost Social Security payments so that the elderly can keep living in their homesteads. These two major platform points for President Trump to adopt, are the focus of the rest of this book.

I have developed over the years, a persuasive argument for President Trump to adopt both of these measures. Pay attention to the next several chapters and you will find out why this is a great idea and how it can be accomplished. And, no I have not gone liberal progressive. This is a fair plan and worth our time. It is a great plan for America and the time is now.

Chapter 2 Congressional Speech to win along with Donald J. Trump

Brian Kelly when Chief Technology Officer College Misericordia circa 1994

No, I don't look like this anymore, but I did look like this when as the chief technology officer at College Misericordia in the 1990's, I began to pay a lot more attention to what goes on in our government. The College paid for this picture.

By now, I admit that I am not too happy with what I discovered about government and politics in our country. That, and because like you, I could not afford a full-bore senatorial campaign, is why I once ran as a write-in candidate for the US Senate.

Ask yourself this question: Would you hire any Congressman in America today to run your business—even to babysit your kids? Me neither! Yet, we hire them through the electoral process to run the most complex country that ever was—the United States of America. It is clear that at some point we must begin to make better choices. Why not start in 2020? We already have our president. Vote on November 3 to assure that we do not lose him.

I think the best way to continue to the meat of this this book is to give you the announcement speech that I will give the first time I am given a forum in a cost-free venue. There is a lot in this speech but then again, there are many issues today in America. As I review the contents of this speech below, I wish that I could make the speech shorter and at the same time more comprehensive, so you fully know what the stakes are all about and why it is worthy of your consideration. I have done my best, but I do admit that this is not one of my shortest speeches. There is a lot of meat here. Thank you.

One more point. In my area of Pennsylvania, we have a US Congressman named Matt Cartwright whose voting record is the same as Nancy Pelosi. He proved he had no value to the people of Northeastern PA after one term but the people did not have good choices and Cartwright is an elitist who married the boss's daughter and has a ton of money from his own family so the spin on his accomplishments have far exceeded his accomplishments. I suspect there are many in the House of Representatives, perhaps your Congressman who the people have not caught up with yet and for some reason keep voting them in term after term.

After the first term the vigilant people of NEPA saw Matt Cartwright for what he is—a phony lawyer and not a regular guy like he pretends to be. So now as Cartwright has been promised the moon and the rest of the world for his Pelosi support and she has a ton of grab-bags for the Congressman to enjoy if the people fail to do their duty and he sneaks in for a fourth term.

This time folks, you do not have to vote for a Pelosi wanna-be. A true patriot and son of NEPA, Jim Bognet is running for Congress. With Jim Bognet, I predict you will get the 30% COLA for seniors and the cancellation of student debt. If you are not from Northeastern PA, ask your Congressman if they support these two platform points and maybe we can all together make sure with Trump's support that we make this happen.

Give this speech that I wrote for Candidate Jim Bognet to your Congressional candidates and tell them to add the parts about the 30% COLA and the cancellation of all student debt. Then, folks, this becomes a reality.

Here is my recommended speech

Fellow Citizens,

Language is inadequate to express my gratitude for the privilege of submitting before you my perspective on the reason why a good Pennsylvanian like candidate Jim Bognet would choose to represent the fine people of Pennsylvania as your US Congressman. Besides getting rid of a person Bognet and many other Pennsylvanians characterize as a phony, Matt Cartwright is not one of the regular people in Pennsylvania.

As I look out in my mind's eye, I see a vast sea of human faces who share a common interest, as do I, about the greatest questions of our times. Beyond occasionally agitating the mind, they now dominate the concerns of all Pennsylvanians and U.S. citizens, underlying the foundations of our free institutions. Let us all make sure that freedom never becomes just another word for nothing left to lose. Look at Chicago, NYC, Portland, Atlanta, Seattle, and other Democrat strongholds and you will see the America you will get if Matt Cartwright and Joe Biden win the next election.

The reaction of my own U.S. Congress candidacy in 2010 by the people of Pennsylvania was quite heartening. We now have a president whose interest quite simply is to "Make America Great Again." By contrast, the embedded establishment and liberal leftovers in the SWAMP and the Deep State, and the AOC Socialists, have no interest in performing what is good for our country. They are doing their best to undermine our president, without any repercussions. They are aided and abetted by a corrupt media, instead of building bridges to work for the good of all Americans.

It is no longer acceptable for a Democrat or a Republican to be a Never-Trumper. Donald Trump is our president and his platform is my platform and when elected, I hope the extras in my platform that I introduce in this speech, such as a 30% senior payback down payment and the cancellation of all student debt become part of the Trump platform.

We all know that “Never-Trumpers” will never hold office again. Democrats such as Matt Cartwright, Jim Bogner’s opponent, and not a friend of the people, simply adore the establishment’s impediments to the president’s agenda with a media whose interests are as adverse to the American people as the British press was during Colonial Times.

The Democrats and the Republican Never-Trumpers in the Senate, House, and the federal bureaucracy and the degenerate mainstream press have done everything they can to thwart the will of 62,979,636 people who voted to clean out the SWAMP with a fresh new presidential administration.

The legendarily venal Hillary Clinton lost the election after the public saw through her charade; yet she continues to parade around the world blaming everything from her own adoring fans at The New York Times, to white women like her, to the DNC, and probably even the cows in Wisconsin, a state she famously lost after taking it so for granted, she never visited.

She even blames the FBI and it never occurs to anyone that the best way to avoid an untimely FBI intervention in a political campaign is to not run for President while under federal criminal investigation. And all the while, Matt Cartwright stood by submissively, applauding and enabling this farce of a candidacy. It is time for the country to move on. She lost, now get over it. We've had six years of Cartwright and that's about as much as any man or woman in America can stand.

Jim Bognet is running for Congress to reclaim a seat which rightfully belongs to its people, not the extrinsic interests controlling our politicians who would tear the Constitution in half without hesitation if it would please their donors and cheerleaders in the mainstream media.

Despite the shameless lack of virtue that defines the top echelons of our government, our country itself is replete with honest citizens who would be humbled to work on behalf of their fellow countrymen and women. That is why Jim Bognet is running for the US Senate against one of the biggest new icons of mainstream mediocrity and corruption, Mr. Matt Cartwright.

Cartwright caters only to the whining anti-Trump crowd who want to turn every trivial post on Facebook into a new Cuban Missile Crisis. Despite the voters in even his home state rejecting the rank duplicity of former Secretary Clinton and her bleak vision of hopelessness and sovereign state decline, Matt Cartwright never lifted a finger to help the people who support our president in office, despite the fact that we outnumber the opposition right here in Pennsylvania. But to him-- that's Matt Cartwright, folks; we do not even exist.

The Matt Cartwright that we all see is a do-nothing Congressman who would prefer to turn the US into a globalist abyss rather than support its sovereignty or its people's dignity. Meanwhile, our great president is trying to find everybody a high-paying job by making it easier to conduct business in our country. Jim Bognet will help President Trump protect us from such parasitic interests.

If there is one principle most cherished in all free governments, it is that which asserts the exclusive right of a free people to form and adopt their own fundamental laws, to manage and regulate their own internal affairs and domestic institutions. That is under constant attack by Mr. Cartwright and his legions of Clinton dead-enders.

Electing representatives of the people is not a triviality, but rather the expression of the most fundamental right of self-government. Without it, of course, this great United States would be like any other country in the world. It would not be the exceptional republic, which we the people have enjoyed since our own Declaration of Independence.

To say that I am honored to be here today presenting a platform for adoption and two special points for seniors and millennials to assure a Trump and Jim Bognet victory is an understatement. Thank you for your reception and hospitality. I assure you that if elected, Jim Bognet will join President Trump to provide Pennsylvania and the United States of America the best representation in the Congress of which he is capable. You can be sure of that.

We have many issues today of which the people are concerned. My plan in this address is to limit discussion to just two of the most prominent. My candidacy uniquely addresses each of the two as no other candidate for any US office has ever been able to do. I hope you will find these likely elements of the Jim Bognet platform a welcome refreshment and inclusive of precepts that we all embrace and recognize as sincere and necessary.

Thank you very much

Would this mean an Assured Trump Victory?

It sure seems like it would

The issues and solutions will be presented one by one in the following two chapters:

#1—Social Security's Cost-of-Living Fraud – Boost
Social Security Now!

#2—Student Debt Crisis –
Wipe Out All Student Debt Now!

When the President embraces this route to an assured victory, we will see him pledge to put forth legislation when elected to help address both defined areas which are presented as platform points.

Let's discuss the unique points above, one by one, starting with Social Security COLA in the next chapter.

Chapter 4 Boost Social Security Now

There are many unique points which we have been discussing in this book, Let's finish off this book with the two major points of Canceling Student Debt and solving our Social Security Crisis.

Let's begin with this chapter as we examine the problem that Social Security COLA for Seniors is a an intentional government ripoff. Why would any American believe that the government was looking for an easy way out to stiff seniors of their increasing (to match inflation) Social Security Payments so they hired Academic Professors and Think Tanks and others to figure out a way to cheat seniors out of a true cost of living increase and make the system so complex that the seniors would not know the difference. The first solution for this mess created by the government is to Boost Social Security Now

Social Security is no longer publicly discussed by our duplicitous media despite the fact that seniors' issues need the spotlight now more than ever. The media derided the implied greed of SSR recipients who received a whopping two percent cost of living raise to kick off 2018, as if oblivious to the fact that the inflation rate for 2017 was nearly 11%. Not 2% as reported by the government, but 11%. I bet a lot of readers are saying "yeah, that's what it felt like to me."

No wonder seniors are struggling when their cost for purchases goes up 11% and their COLA to make up for that is a mere 2%. How do I know that, and you don't?

There are several ways Americans can investigate how much government lies cost them each year. The government purposely underestimates the cost of living to deprive our elderly of a commensurate actual increase in earned benefits. One of two methods for you to use to verify this fact is to subscribe to the Chapwood index or you may explore Shadowstats.com. Type one at a time into your browser to gain a needed perspective on how much you are due. Also read on as we explain it.

Seniors unfortunately are running out of whatever financial cushions they may ever have had, and their plight today is dire. I encourage you all to research the degree to which government deceptions are resulting in these surreptitious deprivations.

After decades being saturated by our mainstream propaganda rags, it is refreshing to finally see the truth in print. The Chapwood Index reflects the true cost-of-living increase in America. It is updated and released twice a year.

There the ruses or mis-directions of the government are not included in its pages. Instead, it truthfully reports the unadjusted actual cost and price fluctuation of the top 500 items on which Americans spend their after-tax dollars in the 50 largest cities in the nation.

It exposes why middle-class Americans—salaried workers who are given routine pay hikes and retirees who depend on annual increases in their corporate pension and Social Security payments—cannot maintain their standard of living. Plainly and simply, the Index shows that their income can't keep up with their expenses and it explains why they increasingly have to turn to the government for entitlements for supplementation.

Mainstream Democrats such as Matt Cartwright and Senator Casey and Nancy Pelosi exacerbate the situation by allowing the use of even more inequitable methods such as the new chained CPI to help assure that Seniors can languish in poverty as soon as possible and as long as possible.

The problem of lacking transparency on true costs (true inflation) occurs because salary and benefit increases are pegged to the fraudulent Consumer Price Index (CPI), which for more than a century has purported to reflect the fluctuation in prices for a typical “basket of goods” in American cities — but which actually hasn't done that for more than 30 years

The middle class has seen its purchasing power decline dramatically in the last three decades, forcing more and more people to seek entitlements when their savings are gone. And as long as pay raises and benefit increases are tied to a false CPI, this trend will continue.

In the past, nobody was anxious to throw the proverbial grandma under the bus. Now, believe it or not, hordes of constituencies are lining up to be the first to fleece what should belong to her into the eternal abyss, never to be seen again. The list of offenders includes: Congress, government officials, professors in academia, the “greatest” economic advisors the world has ever known, and dejected stand-alone economists who failed to gain tenure at a university.

FDR & Coterie the signing of the SSR Bill 1933

This group of elite misfits have formed a diabolical consortium to cheat seniors out of their due cost of living increases promised from the very day the SSR act was passed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

As the mainstream Democrats kowtow to cultural elites and financial institutions, turning their backs on the workers and middle-class that defined their constituency for much of the 20th century, it is up to us, the regular people of America, to pick up the slack and fight for the rights of everyday Americans.

When SSR was enacted, the president promised full dollar value throughout the years in order to ensure its passage in 1933. We cannot let this be undermined by the likes of Congressman Cartwright, Senator Casey and his allies under Chuck Schumer and Nancy Pelosi.

Many Americans are concerned that the Social Security program itself may not be able to sustain itself while others see the government cheating on the cost of living increases (CPI) thereby predetermining a life of squalor for seniors.

All successful societies throughout the ages, have maintained respect and dignity for their elders. Not only is cheating seniors a moral failure, it is a sign of a civilization entering an era of decay.

While seniors are losing their homes and many, for want of bread and milk, are on the verge of heading to the proverbial poorhouse or worse—the clutches of the Grim Reaper, Congress in 2018 pretended to care, giving a 2% raise, but then quickly snatched it right back in the dead of night via a Medicare Part B premium increase. This additional Medicare Part B charge for necessary health services for seniors was excluded from the cost of living calculations.

Thus, to pay Medicare part B, seniors are forced to use their “generous” 2% raises there, rather than to offset the costs brought forth from inflation in 2017 for which the 2% was intended. Since the real inflationary cost increases were closer to 11%, that means that instead of 9% that seniors were to endure, they accrued a full load of 11% in price increases. It's easy to understand why this constant drainage of resources is unsustainable for a senior citizen.

How did we reach this point?

Early in the administration of disgraced former President Bill Clinton, an economist named Michael Boskin, and Alan Greenspan, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, devised a scheme that would allow for market basket “substitutions” to artificially lower the cost of living and result in lower payments to our oldest Americans. Prior to their involvement, the consumer price index (CPI) was measured using the cost of a fixed basket of goods, a fairly simple and straightforward concept.

The identical basket of goods would be priced at prevailing market costs for each period, and the period-to-period change in the cost of that market basket represented the rate of inflation in terms of maintaining a constant standard of living. That was self-evidently fair and reasonable, and predictably resulted in seniors receiving annual COLA increases in tandem with the prices of goods actually increasing.

But Boskin and Alan Greenspan argued that when one item in the basket, for instance steak, became too expensive, the consumer would substitute hamburger for the steak, and that the inflation measure should reflect the costs tied to buying hamburger rather than the steak. Eventually, it became OK for the bureaucrats to replace hamburger with even less expensive tuna and eventually because the protein value was the same, cat tuna replaced regular tuna in the market basket.

To further obscure the true cost of living, other items were selectively removed from the basket when the prices were high and then reinserted when the prices were low. The objective was to finance the federal government on the backs of senior citizens on SSR.

Many people have been familiar with this ruse. For example, a 1970s economic commentator named Barry Ritholtz joked that Greenspan's core inflation metric can more accurately be described as "inflation ex-inflation," meaning inflation after all of the inflation has been excluded. This demonstrates that the deception of seniors has been intentional, and it continues with a new notion called the chained CPI that will cost seniors even more.

The fact is that government has deceitfully stolen right from the pockets of our beloved seniors by denying them a fair cost of living increase. Some have even suggested that the government believes a natural limit exists on the criticism this could engender because over time, many of the complaints will be silenced by their deaths. Charming.

Walter J. Williams, an American blessing who operates the Shadowstats site has demonstrated that seniors have been stiffed by much more than just 125% and in fact should be receiving more than 4 times what their dollars were worth in 1980. That's $450 instead of $100.00. Any senior would love to have even a small proportion of that loss back.

I hope I have convinced you all that seniors have been ripped off and are being ripped off financially by their government. Congress is the real culprit.

So, what do I recommend for now? A gradual remedy. Since it would be difficult to give seniors the proper increase immediately needed to offset this quagmire caused by government malfeasance, my recommendation would be to approach it gradually, in a way that seniors would be somewhat pleased, and be able to live out their golden years in a more dignified manner.

For the next four years, the COLA boost that I'd recommend would be 15% above the real inflation rate. After four consecutive years, that should be sufficient to remove seniors from the on-deck circle they currently occupy directly outside the homeless shelter. That's all it would take.

As I discussed early on in this book, a simple way to get a down payment on the payback to seniors, the president could change the CPI calculation back to what it was in 1980 for 2021 and additionally provide a down payment of 30% on top of the 2021 COLA calculation. That would take all seniors out of the on deck circle to poverty and prove to the people that government can be fair. The President can announce this in a major speech and ask the seniors for forgiveness for the chicanery of past presidents from Clinton forward.

Thank you for your attention on these important matters.

In conclusion, I must again express my gratitude for your consideration and any support as we work together to make America even greater.

God bless America and help us all make her better!

Chapter 5 Eliminate All Student Debt!!!

Student debt is huge

America has a number of problems that need addressing for sure. One that is not discussed as often as it should be, however, is the massive student debt carried by mostly young people who are most vulnerable as they try to get a start in life.

Despite its not being on the talk shows and that it is not the prime conversation, aka Internet chatter, or the blogosphere, it is a major issue for 25% of American and it is a major drain and an impediment for the economy to overcome.

The amount of student debt is huge and growing with no end in sight. It presents a big problem for the US economy and our newest adult citizens. We do know how we got into this mess but for years nobody has tried to really solve the problem. Young people were not treated fairly as they considered going to college. No, it was definitely not fair. Seventeen- year-olds were hoodwinked bu trusted elders and “guaranteed a college degree and a bright future by signing on the dotted line and agreeing often to an amount over $100,000. Other than a mostly blue collar set of parents, the sixteen or seventeen-year-olds were not represented by counsel.

The debt always materialized as payable but the degree did not always materialize. Moreover, when the student did achieve a degree, better than half of the students had little more than C or slightly better averages and the good job did not necessarily follow. Colleges and Universities overpromised. They loaned hundreds of thousands of dollars to kids who could not get credit for a candy bar in a general store. Why, somehow the government made it ok for the colleges and universities to remain whole even if their products came out without white collar jobs and were working in the garbage truck division of their cities if they could get such lucrative positions.

Today more and more former students are in debt as far as they can see that they believe their lives are over. More than 5 million borrowers are in default and that number is growing faster than the number of new loans being issued. There is a Solution and it is the subject of this chapter: Wipe out all student debt now. We'll show you why

If we look at the almost 1.7 Trillion dollars in student loan debt that more and more young adults simply cannot repay, some have asked: “Why do our young people no longer matter?” Do they matter?

We live in an age in which everybody seems to have a reason to pick on millennials. Many who I know well, would not loan a “spoiled” millennial “ingrate” as much as a dollar for a cup of coffee.

Whether millennials are deserving of the bad rap or not, they represent a lost generation of our society. For the sake of all of America, they need to be invited back in. We all have student loan debtors in our families – sons, daughters, nephews, nieces, even grandparents and parents when we consider cosigners.

I am proposing that the president promises during his campaign to offer legislation in his second term to make sure we solve this nasty American problem. There have been many other debt reliefs in our history but none that could deliver such an immediate benefit to so many actual Americans all at once.

The upside would be overwhelming, a joint humanitarian return and a major economic return far greater than any bailout in history. Let’s consider.

A Bailout is a Bailout?

Many of us remember bailouts of the past from 2007 onward. We had bank bailouts, auto company bailouts, TARP bailouts and many other unnamed bailouts. Did any of these help your family? Of course not. Bailout fever began right before Obama became President and continued.

The President managed all of the money—trillions. He chose not to give a dime to help student loan debt but spared no expense showering the degenerate financial institutions that lined his candidacy with gold.

Mike Collins, a Forbes Magazine contributor whose expertise focuses on manufacturing and government policy (not the former beloved magistrate of Wilkes-Barre who shares the same name) had this to say:

“Most people think that the big bank bailout was the $700 billion that the treasury department used to save the banks during the financial crash in September of 2008. But this is a long way from the truth because the bailout [ten years later] is still ongoing.

“The Special Inspector General for TARP’s summary of the bailout says that the total commitment of government is $16.8 trillion dollars with the $4.6 trillion already paid out. The [same] banks are now larger and still too big to fail. But it isn’t just the government bailout money that tells the story of the bailout. This is a story about lies, cheating, and a multi-faceted corruption, which was often criminal.”

Like most elements of his presidency, Obama made the situation worse when he commandeered the student loans from Sallie Mae and other lenders. The government now pulls in more than $50 billion a year from charging excessive high interest rates to student borrowers. The Obama Student Loan Company charged 6.8% as a student interest rates. The CBO estimates that the interest rate on these loans could quickly be reduced from 6.8 percent to 5.3 percent if Obama had not earmarked the profit from the backs of students to subsidize Obamacare.

Not only were millennials duped into huge college loans when they were so young that Clearasil or another acne remedy was one of their major expenses, they were duped into believing Obama was in their corner.

I believe these student victims deserve a break. They are now adults. Some stuck with huge cosign tabs are grandparents on Social Security (SSR). The government actually garnishes their SSR to pay back the Obama loans.

The federal government is putting up $16.8 trillion dollars as of 2018 to big banks, and other nameless faces receiving bailouts. We still do not know who is getting our money. Yet students who are still being victimized by usury were preyed on as 17-year-olds by admissions counsellors for an all-but worthless college education leading to no job. If given the choice would you be helping the big banks or our own kids?

What do the people think about student debt?

Four in ten Americans believe that President Trump's administration should forgive all federal student debt in order to help stimulate the economy, according to a reasonably new survey revealed in 2017. That number is going up each year. As time goes by as more Americans realize we are excluding a full generation of Americans in our economy, this number will increase from a simple majority to an overwhelming endorsement of wiping out this scurrilous unfair debt as soon as possible. We should bring these 48 million students back into the American way of life as soon as possible.

The largest share of blame for the student debt crisis lies with the promises made by over-zealous admissions counsellors convincing kids to sign up for $100,000 loans. No American can want a full generation of other Americans to be left behind in the Trump economy. We need this debt eradicated now and to install safeguards so that seventeen-year-olds in the future are never asked again to sign up for a life in debtor's prison.

According to MoneyTips.com, attitudes have changed from a time when Americans thought college students should be punished for making bad choices to today, when we could use 48 million new spenders in our economy, especially with a recovery from the economic impact of the coronavirus.

These debt-free former students could be unleashed into a world of productivity if no longer burdened with massive debt. Many of us know first-hand the consequences of this debt burden. Though millennials may not be the most gracious in asking for help, they are Americans, not DACA immigrants, and they need our help now.

The raw economic fact regardless of your philosophical preference is that spenders with the greatest potential to spend today are not spending at all in real numbers because of student debt. They are not getting married. They are not having families and they are not buying homes. We must solve this scourge on our country so that this generation can produce other generations of Americans.

Our children are not MS-13 gang members in disguise; there are our kids. American kids. They were snookered to join academia for what they were deceived into believing was an indispensable college degree by depraved loan sharks. Let's give them a full chance. It costs a university nothing when their students with huge loans fail. Please let that sink in.

Let me review the plight of young American college attendees and graduates. Barely out of adolescence, these young Americans were wheedled into commitments based on fraudulent promises by admissions counselors and financial institutions. It was unfair to pit experienced loan sharks against adolescent teenagers. The students were further damned by a paid-for Congress, whose lobbyists insisted that these select few with student debt, distinct from all of the others in America, had no opportunity for any relief in the bankruptcy courts.

Meanwhile non-college graduates with a trillion dollars in credit card debt are still able to obtain full relief from the courts. Why did Congress exclude these former teenagers, who clearly have been the biggest victims of loan-sharking organized racketeering ever seen in America? Why?

I am pledging today to solve this problem as soon as I can. I am ready to take action by trying to convince the president, candidate Jim Bognet, and others. I hope you all agree. Let's help these young Americans before they are lost forever.

Young teenagers were told all through high school that the best ticket for a successful life is a college education. Is this true today? Their salaries often lag behind even those of non-college educated professionals such as plumbers, electricians, computer repair personnel, operating engineers, and more. Because of their reliance on these deliberately false misrepresentations, they now owe an approximate average of $50,000 in student debt while their admissions counsellors and loan sharks revel in riches, in their Mercedes, BMW's, and third vacation homes on the lake.

Unscrupulous malefactors with self-interested agendas persuaded America's teenagers, many so young they still had Acne vulgaris, to dig themselves huge financial holes with no escape. Universities are at least partly responsible for their unfulfilled promises. Don't you think? We must also consider what liability they may share in compensating this lost generation where one out of six student borrowers must default today, a figure that only increases with time.

Removing this debt may not fully compensate for the bad hand they were dealt, but its consequent increase in economic activity will benefit all of us. It will boost the US economy beyond expectations. We are already giving bailouts of $17 billion to obscenely rich people in corporate shadows. Right now, we need a mere 10% of that to pay for the write-off of student debt without hurting taxpayers and without putting any banks under. The savings over three years, for example from a resident visa program (another Kelly program) alone if we choose to implement one, would pay off all the student debt that exists today. Why support illegal aliens when we can help Americans?

One last point. It helps to recall that President Obama increased the National Debt by $9.1 Trillion in just eight years, hoping to assure that illegal aliens had all the resources they needed to take as many American jobs as they could. This is six times the amount of debt owed by young Americans. Obama nearly doubled our debt. And what do we have to show for that? As is typical for the Obama years, the answer is frankly... nothing. By contrast, debt relief for our young Americans will be visibly positive in its impact.

So, let's say the President and /or Congress wipes out all student debt because it is the fair thing to do. How do we prevent this from every happening again? For this, I thank my great friend, Dennis Grimes whose solution combines some skin in the game for Academic Institutions to the mix and thus assures that no student will ever carry debt unless the student is successful with a job in their field of study. Here is how the new loan system would work.

Nobody gets a loan unless the college or university agrees to take all of the risk of the loan. If the student is successful, she or he will pay reasonable amounts on a monthly basis. If the student is jobless, since the university vouched for the student, the school will owe all of the debt. Academic institutions are smart. They will stop lending quickly to students with very little prospects of being able to pay the loan back. If students do not maintain acceptable averages, they will be expelled, and the university will pay their balance. If they want to go to college in the future, it will be cash only. What do you think?

A Rigged System

I am confident that President Trump would re-enfranchising America's youngest generation of adults by eradicating student debt and pay the balance via savings no longer spent subsidizing illegal immigrants.

In his own words, regarding recent graduates: "They go, and they work, and they take loans, and they're borrowed up, and they can't breathe, and they get through college and the worst thing is, they go through that whole process and they don't have any job." Trump has it right. He sees how this rigged system has snuffed out the optimism of a bright generation that now gives way to cynicism and despair.

When Jim Bognet is elected as our Congressman to replace do-nothing Matt Cartwright who did not need a student loan because his family was swimming in resources, I will ask him to enact legislation that eradicates all Student Debt, effective immediately.

It is the American thing to do.
